GET A BIRD'S EYE VIEW OF THE CONSTRUCTION OF THE NEW DOWNTOWN PARKING GARAGE

GLENDALÉ, Ariz. -- When the first vehicles pull in to park in the new downtown Glendale parking garage this winter, they will be pulling into a structure boasting 11,000 square feet of retail and office space with five parking levels and beautiful brick façade reminiscent of Glendale's roots. But you can see it now in its infancy thanks to the up-above view offered at a new viewing station.

The viewing station, located in the McCarthy offices on the third floor the Bank of America Building (5800 W. Glenn Drive, suite 330), will be open from 9 a.m. to noon, Monday through Friday. This station will provide great views of the project during all of its critical stages.

Construction of the new 600-space downtown parking structure began in March and is scheduled to be completed in January 2008.

This new parking structure is replacing a 140-space surface parking lot. It will have one level of underground parking, retail and restaurants at ground level and three parking levels above. The retail area will be on the north side of the structure, adjacent to Catlin Court. Entrance and exits will front 58th Drive and 58th Avenue.

It will be the third parking garage in downtown Glendale.
